DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Malino, US #5,799,423 in view of Johnson, US #5,934,707.

3. Malino teaches a calendar including cardboard substrate support means 22, date locations 28 having a design or message thereon (Figures 5 and 7), and magnetic marker elements 32 (Figure 4A) which may be placed on the date locations. When markers 32 are removed, they reveal a message or design. The date locations correspond to a time period of one month, which may have familial significance or include a holiday. The pictorial design (Figure 1 for example) suggests events (months) associated with the time interval.

4. Malino does not teach a target location for the markers when they are not on the date locations, however this is well known in the art. Johnson teaches a calendar wherein markers (16, 18 for example) are placed in target location 32 (Figure 1) when removed from date locations (Figure 2). The markers make a pictorial design in the target location. It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art to utilize a target location (as shown in Johnson) in the device of Malino so that the markers will not be misplaced when removed from the date locations.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 11 and 12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed March 24, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

7. Applicant argues that there is no motivation to combine the references and the combined teachings do not teach or suggest several of the claimed limitations.

8. In response to the amendment to the claims, a new reference has been applied. The Johnson reference shows markers held in a target location when not placed on a date location. The motivation for combining the references is that Johnson teaches the target location as a place for temporary storage of the markers when not in use.

Conclusion

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
